

Distinguished Lecturers

Position Description

The Distinguished Lecturer is responsible for educating and interacting with Society members organized in chapters around the world about topics that fall within the Society's field of interest.

Position Criteria

The Distinguished Lecturer must be an active IEEE Signal Processing Society member at the time of nomination, and must remain throughout the term of service. They must be recognized experts, who are capable of delivering a message of importance to the technical community, as well as to the Society's members organized in chapters around the world.

Term

The Distinguished Lecturer term is two-years.

Elected/Appointed by

The Distinguished Lecturer is appointed by the Awards Board with the advice and consent of the Board of Governors.

Nomination Period

The nomination period is normally in 1 April – 31 May.

Time Commitment

Travel:

- Distinguished Lecturer's travel frequently during their term. The extent, location and duration of travel is determined by the Distinguished Lecturer. There are no minimum travel requirements set by the Society.

Travel Support

- The Society supports the Distinguished Lecturer's travel to Chapters. Each Chapter is allocated up to $3500 per year for Distinguished Lecturer visits. The Distinguished Lecturer will work with the Chapter Chair on a travel budget. In the end, the Society will reimburse the Distinguished Lecturer's expenses, not the Chapter.